I know some of these are related issues and a deep dive on some will be included in the detailed discussion but I think we have to give her a quick update on all these. I really intend for it to be 5 minutes and defer to the detailed briefings on the key issues. I'll try and do this overview myself to keep it to 5 minutes and then launch into the briefings right away. Part of the reason the general stuff is up front is because she's going to take us there at the on set of the meeting anyway (based on staff meeting discussions with her). We can also lead with the briefings first and if she doesn't take us to these other issues then we can do them at the end. I'm good with that..... wish us luck.

I'd recommend the updates go at the end or we will never make it through the substantive briefings. also--the canola issue will be discussed in the context of the "sorghum, palm oil, etc pathways" briefing--right Bob?
